

Rantoukaku Art Museum

Works by renowned modern Japanese painters are displayed in this impressive building

The museum houses a permanent collection of more than 2,200 works, including oil paintings, traditional Japanese paintings, sketches, and wood-block prints by famous and local Japanese artists.

Shotoen Garden

Shotoen was named to reflect the beauty of the pine trees in the Japanese gardens enhanced by the view of the Sannose-Seto Strait. There are four museums on the site; each building has been either relocated elsewhere in Japan or restored.

The Kamagari Guard House

Experiences the spirit of
"Wabi" and "Sabi"

In the Guard House, a tea ceremony is held twice a year in spring and autumn, giving visitors an opportunity to experience the essence of Japanese culture.

WELCOME TO SHIMOKAMAGARI

SANNOSE GUIDE MAP

For Smartphone

Hakusetsuro House

Hakusetsuro was originally in Kyoto in the 18th century. The house was converted into two stories in the mid-19th century, with the second floor once being used for the study of Chinese classics. It was donated to Shimokamagari in 1993, and took 2 years to rebuild. Timber remains the mark used for reconstruction. The interior displays ingenuity in its design, and of particular interest is the room with a secret escape, a rare examples of a style typical of the late Edo period.

Insect Museum

Displays include minute insects, Japanese dragonflies, local Shimokamagari insects, and endangered species in Hiroshima. There are events for making insect specimens are held during the summer holidays.

Want more information?

About exhibits, facilities and products

Shotoen Garden
Facebook

Sannose Gohonjin
Facebook

Issue

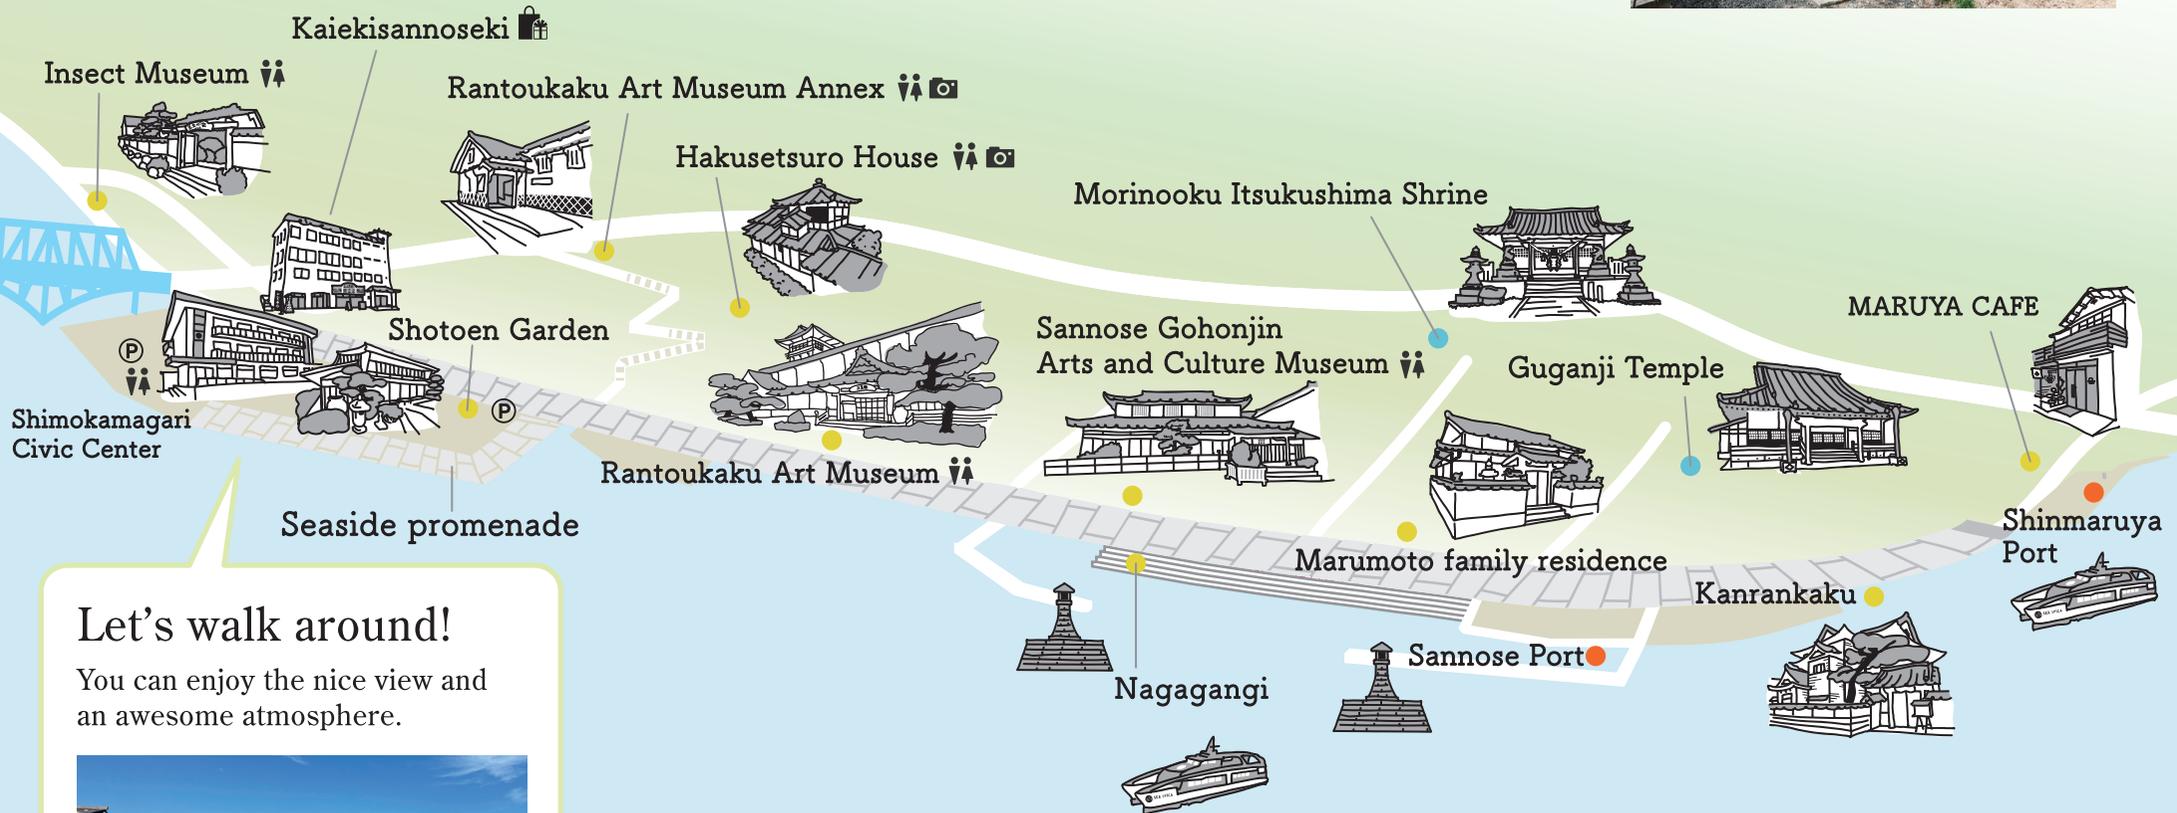

Shimokamagari Community Development Association
Local Vitalization Cooperator : kody, M.Kojima

About spot icons

-  Toilet
-  Souvenir shop
-  Photo spot
-  Parking
-  Cultural facility
-  Shrine Temple
-  Port

Rantoukaku Art Museum Annex

The annex holds a permanent exhibition of oil painter Manjiro Terauchi, famous for his nude paintings. Some of his mementos, including paint-brushes and pallets, are also on display. From the top of the hill, visitors can enjoy the view of Kamagari Ohashi Bridge and the Sannose-Seto Strait.

Let's walk around!

You can enjoy the nice view and an awesome atmosphere.

Sannose Guide Map